

JM PLANTS AND PRODUCE CSA

3 SEPTEMBER 2010
WEEK THIRTEEN

Fall Plantings

This week we started seeds for some experimental fall and winter crops. Hopefully they will do well in our Vermont winter. Kale, kohlrabi, broccoli, cauliflower, romaine, mesclun mix and escarole are just a few of the plants we hope to have throughout the winter and in the early spring.

What we planted...

Kale, kohlrabi, broccoli, cauliflower, romaine, mesclun mix and escarole are just a few of the plants we hope to have throughout the winter and in the early spring.

THIS WEEK'S HARVEST

Tomatoes, Baby Carrots, Tomato Water, Lettuce, Squash

VERMONT

SHELburnE

FALL CLEAN UP

The greenhouses are emptying out and we have started a round of planting for the fall (see right). Corn season is just about done and cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower will be ready soon. We even have a few squash and pumpkins ripening on their vines.

Don't forget to stop by the blog and say hi! We welcome your feedback!

www.jmplantsandproduce.wordpress.com

Photographs by Emily Brunet